Introduction:

I'm a Python developer with a keen interest in machine learning, artificial intelligence, and data analysis. I enjoy turning data into insights and building models that solve real problems. I'm comfortable using tools like Pandas, NumPy, Matplotlib, and Scikit-learn, and I'm actively expanding my skills into computer vision. Through personal projects such as image processing and predictive modeling. I am sharpening my practical experience. I'm now looking for opportunities to start my career, contribute to real-world projects, and grow as a developer in the fields of AI and data science.
